planters

s39

Tree planters offer a means of providing trees and plants in areas where otherwise it may not be possible. Most allow for movement after planting.

We see the planter as being an important part of the overall aesthetic and aim to enhance rather than distract from the natural beauty of the planting.

Our cycle stands are simple and functional. We place the user at the forefront of our design by ensuring that the product works as it should, providing good security and minimal chance of damage to the bicycle.

Our most recent product range brings a fresh approach to picnic furniture. In this collection we introduce new materials including birch ply and fibreglass.

As well as those seen shown here, we also offer co-ordinated tables for use with selected products from our seating range.
